The Department of Zoology and Genetics successfully organized an event titled “Zoopageant” to commemorate World Animal Week. The celebration aimed to create awareness about animal welfare, biodiversity conservation, and the importance of coexistence between humans and animals.

As part of the event, a series of engaging activities such as Quiz, Live Sketching, and Face Painting were conducted on 3rd October 2025. A total of 46 students participated in the Quiz, demonstrating their knowledge on animal diversity, behaviour, and conservation. The Live Sketching competition attracted 22 participants, who expressed their creativity through vivid illustrations. The Face Painting competition saw 12 participants, who artistically portrayed Human- Animal conflict theme with great enthusiasm.

The events were well-coordinated and judged by faculty members from the department. The Prize Distribution Ceremony was held on 4th October 2025 during the Valedictory Session, where winners and participants were felicitated for their outstanding performance and active involvement. Overall, “Zoopageant” was a grand success, combining fun, creativity, and learning. The event not only celebrated World Animal Week but also inspired students to develop empathy and responsibility towards all living beings.
